EDIT 2: 29/07/23 : Killu caught talking to another minor with romantic intent. (read below) + other updates

Recently it has come out that Killu has been talking to yet another minor, with emphasis on starting a relationship with them. Said Minor does not wish to disclose their exact age publicly but the range is 15-17 ; we will also be protecting their identity as they are a minor.

Included below are many screenshots between the two of them.
Note: killus discord name included the minors name so i have removed those Extra notes: they were only in contact for 3-ish days and killu had already started talking to them as such, note how Killu never actually cares to confirm the minors age, and continues to act as such anyway.

Killu attempts to justify this by saying the minor was pushing them to have a relationship; but REMINDER that Killu is 19 and it is ALWAYS the adults responsibility to create safe boundaries and even block/remove as needed, but killu refuses to take any blame for their actions.

. Today at 6:04 PM
im confused why they are saying im pushing them when they r still trying to be close. also prove what that is a child and you have responsibility as an adult to draw safe boundaries but you refuse a child being a child. being stupud and naive. is not a fucking EXCUSE. to justify the actions YOU MAKE what the hell dude

. Today at 5:55 PM
whyd they tell me they were 16-18 then say they they were about to be 18 and their bday is sep. which tells ME they are 17. and will be 18 in a month koga. Today at 5:55 PM
why did you fucking date someone without even confirming their age.
why is this a repeat issue with you.

Situational Context :
This callout is being written due to the recent information surfacing about killu meeting up with a minor to give them drugs (whom only knew eachother for 3 months) , grooming + manipulating them, emotionally abusing tons of people. Killu has been excused for such actions for far too long and still has people defending their actions even with the immense amount of proof, therefore we have decided to collaborate on a callout doc.Killu confirmed herself that she met up with said minor (screenshots below)

The sections below contain screenshots from multiple victims, as well as the minor involved (that killu met up with) whom we have talked to extensively (and with their permission) to make this callout.

THIS IS GROOMING.

Grooming is when somebody takes advantage of a victim, conditioning them to perform a service or gratification for the groomer. There are many who are aggressively claiming that because of the lack of obvious sexual intent, that this is not a case of grooming. That simply is not true. In the case with the minor, the grooming was for emotional gratification. The minor was Killu’s emotional dumping ground, constantly venting, oversharing, speaking of inappropriate topics including SH and EDTWT, and substance usage.

Killu and the minor had bonded over their struggles with these subjects. These topics were used to enable the initial stage of grooming, building an isolated sense of trust. Subjects like these aren’t easy to talk about, and having an adult who understands is an exclusive and comforting feeling. But, Killu was no mentor, no guardian, instead this was used as an upper hand on the victim, going as far to indulge and enable the victims struggles. After, came promises of gifts. Killu used her place as a role model and inspiration to the victim to get art out of her. There are unfinished art trades, lots of owed art in general. This is something else that Killu was conditioning out of the relationship. Killu also used her age and monetary status to an advantage, offering gifts, offering drugs, and offering friendship from a popular artist. They were in complete and total control of the dynamic, and carefully calculated every interaction with all this in mind. Next, came another stage of grooming. Trapping the victim in the abuse cycle. This included sharing inappropriate amounts of venting with the minor, talking shit about the minor and her art, begging the victim to stay, trying to shut communications off but soon resuming. In this abuse cycle, talk of SH/ED, inappropriate venting, and the concept of meeting up was all normalized to the minor. MEETING UP WITH A CHILD TO DO DRUGS WAS A NORMALIZED CONCEPT IN THIS RELATIONSHIP- something Killu clearly displayed guilt over as well, by hiding this information and even stating herself that it wasn't okay (image context in the meetup section). This is the full circle of the grooming.

There is also some incredibly questionable evidence, wherein Killu has a SH kink, the evidence itself is being kept private at this very moment for the sake of the others it involves, but has been seen firsthand by the people writing this. This information, alongside the grooming behavior highlighted above, adds an entire new layer to the situation. To indulge and encourage SH discussion with a minor with it ALSO being a fetish is unfathomable, and unforgivable. Whether it was Killu's intention or not, this subtext is still valuable, with the victim themself stating how uncomfortable that correlation is.

Provided here are links to informational pages about grooming, for validation of the above statements.
While these sources mainly acknowledge grooming for sexual exploitation, that is not exactly what we are claiming happened. It is still, however, emotional grooming.

TESTIMONY from the minor involved:

> Me and Killu had only been friends since around late February, when she agreed to do an art trade with me (One to this day she's never completed) and we bonded over that. I was 15 and she was 19 when we met. Drama was common around the group she hung around so I mostly bonded with her through comforting her through the situations she had been in. As we came closer we gradually started to be more vulnerable with one another and that's where a lot starts to happen. It's important to note we both have bpd, I was diagnosed with it and we became each-others fps (favorite person). To summarize, An FP is an extreme emotional attachment to someone where you idealize them, this is a bpd exclusive term. That's why I struggled to cut her off, since I looked up to her for so long and she gave me a lot of affection. I had a hard time looking at her bad actions for what they really were.

The first situation me and aya had gotten into was when we planned to meet. This starts off around 3 weeks before the meet-up date, April 20, 2023. Me and aya are from the same hometown area so we thought it would be a fun idea to meet up, this was planned for weeks. Whenever the day rolled around, we had developed plans to meet up, hang out, do various drugs like marijuana and magic mushrooms, and have a sleepover. This was a MUTUAL agreement. I had mentioned the fact that we were meeting up in her discord server before it was promptly deleted with a few negative reactions to the idea. A few minutes later, Aya cancels on me as seen in the screenshot below. It seems she had good intentions, except despite the fact that she knew it was wrong she met up with me two months later.

Between the time of the meetups, i had tried to cut aya off three separate times
The first time was because of what happened on April 20, she hid behind the lie that she never had intentions of meeting up with me and didn't know how to tell me (despite us planning said trip for several weeks prior and only told me this on the DAY OF meeting)

The second time was when i found out she was talking negatively about me, saying things like calling me annoying, obsessive, our relationship was parasocial, even comparing us to dream and a dream stan (the audacity.) despite the fact that our friendship was 100% mutual. We had talked everyday, called everyday, made art for each other, did collabs with each other, she bought me things, i supported her and she supported me. She said I was like a sister to her and I believed her. This is when I set a boundary with her, on a call I told her "Just don't talk about me behind my back, that's my only boundary". She agreed and we didn't have any issues until we did.

The third time was when she was over at my house. She was sitting in front of me and then blurted out "(Her now ex gfs name) called your art ugly" Obviously childish, but i was hurt by the comment considering i looked up to both aya and her gf at the time. Upon her leaving my house , i asked for her to send some sort of evidence for this and she sent me this

I only got the full screenshot a few days later, and of course, this is what was said.
The same redesign she wanted me to do, the same redesign trade that she still OWES ME, and the thing she thanked me in person and said she loved it, etc etc. she said all of that only to turn around and do this. The voice messages were me practically bawling my eyes out ahh.

What all three times I cut her off had in common was she always promised that she'd do better, that she'd be here for me, she'd support me, she doesn't want to hurt me, she doesn't want to lose me, only for her to turn around and hurt me again.
Another important thing to note is that drugs were a very big part of our friendship, we bonded over it a lot, and most of the time she encouraged it. We agreed to meet up and do drugs together on several occasions, this ranged from weed to shrooms, to even lsd. She offered to fly me out to Hawaii as well since she had access to these things there.

Other things to mention is that she owes me art, 3-4 drawings through art trades and i've been waiting for only one of them since February. Since I came out about this, I've had lots of people say they've had the same experience.

SHOULD I DRAW THE ONE U SENT

I also wanted to add that she constantly went around telling everybody that I vented too much to her when 1. she was the one offering to help me and 2. She CONSTANTLY vents to me. constantly. I was always there for her. I even called the police to her house for a welfare check in fear that she hurt herself after disappearing for 3 days. It was something mutual that she constantly used against me

There is also a rumor that I am her cousin, and I can confirm that I am not in any way shape or form related to her. I only became her friend around the same time we agreed to do an art trade.

EVIDENCE FOR THE MINORS STATEMENT

Context : killu met up with a minor to do drugs and sleepover. These are all screenshots relating to this situation. Both only knew each other for 3 months before this occurred

At the time of the messages below the minor turned 16 three days prior, and killu was 19.

Context from this image : killu was going to meet up with the minor in question 2 months before it actually happened and canceled the day of after the minor mentioned it in killu's discord server (to which it was promptly deleted - probably due to sudden realization of how bad it looks- and despite this she continued to go and do it 2 months later anyway)

Bri knew we met up and had expressed no issurs with it, she was the first person we told because bri is a close friend of both of us. she has mentioned before it easnt a great idea, i acted incredibly impulsively brcause me and kenzi were both extremely upset we didnt run into eachother, snd after knoeing both her parents were okay with it i genuinely thoughy it would be okay until my flight the next morninh. kenzi was like a little sister and i woulf rather die then even think about doung Anything with predatory intent. i did not groom kenzi,we never had any sort of romantic or secual relationship Whatsoever. i knoe this was a huge mess up, and regardless of context i know this is not something i can fix. kenzi said she wanted to tell her close friends and i never told her not to or that she couldn't. i have messed up a lot, snd have not been honest or good to a lot of my friends thr past months, and i apologize fir everything. i have never Ever fucking preyed on anyone, but i know this was incredibly wrong regardiless. i will be getting All refunds oit as soon as i can, im incredibly sorry for my silence. this is my only job and i judy moved a few months ago, i will work on everything i possibly can, and if you wish to not work with me anymore

^ Screenshots from killus discord announcement about the situation
Note: when they both actually met up, the minor had turned 16 less than two months before Killu addressed the situation about meeting with the minor in question, in an announcement in her discord server to much backlash, and shortly deleted the entire server after seeing the backlash from the announcement. After these announcements she also deleted her twitter account.

Its now been a few days later and she has also changed her toyhouse username, assumedly in an attempt to run from the allegations and what she owes people. As she did not post any bulletin on toyhouse to inform people of the change or what happened with the discord.

In these screenshots Killu attempts to minimize the actions she did, saying it wasnt drugs (sidenote, weed is STILL a drug regardless of if it is legal in your state)

she would say things like her dad knew my dad knew you wanted me to go to the besch with you while tripping on various drugs?
she was willing to get me anythinf weed shrooms lsd she was also a hard drug user
so she wasnt bluffing

killu was in a cycle of abuse, normacy, abuse, right? in her lows, you had clearly communicated your boundaries, which got ignored every time. she used sensitive and emotional topics to gain a fondness and trust. which she took advantage of, because it seems like she really used you to vent on, which is inappropriate for a 19 yr old to be doing to a 15/16 yr old. after multiple attemptsbto cut things off, she repeated the cycle, and ignored boundaries.
this is, essentially grooming not in the sexual/pedo sense but like. textbook bpd grooming.
hushpuppy ´;- Today at 18:50
Yes
bingo
every conversation we had was about what she was dealing with how she wanted to cut people off how she hated her girlfriend snd her friends
And i helped her through wverytbing

The minor involved agreed that what happened was essentially bpd grooming (killu has admitted to having bpd), grooming is not always sexual. Grooming is the act of conditioning someone for personal fulfillment, which can be sexual, emotional, or service. In this case, it is for service, in the sense that she was emotionally manipulating and abusing a minor, preying on them to use for emotional spillage.

EMOTIONAL ABUSE / MANIPULATION

Killu has a long history of emotionally abusing people, ignoring set boundaries and then begging for forgiveness, and wanting to ‘isolate’ people so that they only talk to her. Refusing to take responsibility and blaming others for her own actions.

Below are experiences confirming that Killu is emotionally abusive and manipulative

> me and aya met in early 2019, and things escalated between the two of us within a couple months of talking and texts got progressively more flirtatious, i was given the fact that she did in fact like me and while we were talking in august of 2019 we confessed to each other; after laney finding out that we were together, things got heated and aya manipulated me to think that they werent together nor flirting as i got defensive and blocked laney afterwards, i was given the image that laney was crazy and lying to me about them being together, which made me feel even more upset as it wasnt even laneys fault. (cheating incident 1). i was manipulated into believing that i was the only girl that she was talking to when it wasnt the case; after months of thinking we were dating she suddenly stopped talking to me as much, i started to get paranoid as we were a thing and i found out that she was cheating on me with val. we broke up but aya claimed we never dated as well as spreading the image of me “taking advantage” per say of aya sexually in a now deleted beware post (cheating incident 2) my life felt like it was crumbling and i was only about 13 years old, nobody should ever go through that so young, i was neive and i gave her another chance around december of 2019, she did the exact same to me, manipulated me and made me think i was crazy for feeling upset towards her, we got close yet again and were flirting, just to be hit with her dating val behind my back. (cheating incident 3) she was trying to deflect onto something else that wasnt her and refusing to take accountability. i was truly at my breaking point as i deleted all social media hoping that we would never fall into contact again, this loop kept going on up until now > i cut her off for nearly a year in 2021 and she comtacted me, as well as laney and ria; apologizing for her actions. i was skeptical and i still accepted his apology, we were close until early this year when she made negative remarks of me and laneys relationship, claiming i was taking advantage of her to people i wasnt close to and was overly obsessive over our relationship; i as well as laney confronted her and she backtracked. claiming she would never do that behind our backs; at this point i lacked any emotional attachment to her due to the repetitive actions she claimed she didnt do. now, i stand face to the worst possible event i could imagine him doing, i am truly shocked and nobody should endure the trauma any of the victims experienced, thank you for taking your time reading our experiences and i truly appreciate each and every one of you

JAMIE (got permission from said user to present these here.)
Note : in the second screenshot killu says ‘jamie can die’ about the fact that jamie wants to support killu as their favourite artist. Which is extremely disgusting to talk about your fan this way.

jamie Today at 6:29 PM

For extra context:
Aya constantly offered me art / designs and i refused everytime
She told me i was her fp / favorite artist repeatedly and even told people she had feelings for me
But she was clearly lying, even going as far as to call me a “replacement” for her ex 💀
I was never given a clear concept for the design and was only told to make a design based on killua which is what i did Aya also offered to fly me out to hawaii before and told me a bunch if shit to make me feel special / loved die fr he barely talks to me and does its just about wanting a om me or me being his fav artist for like 4 days and then we just so fr the only reason i got close a while was bc he has a design lly want lso i wanna make my own killua gn and get rid of this ugly ass one jamie HELP i havent used it once i actually it id not even follow what i wanted like

ANON STATEMENT:

For starters; due to reasons later mentioned, I wish to remain anonymous. I don't want my name tied to this anymore, because I am actually terrified of her.

My experience with her happened around 4-5 years ago? Which is quite a bit ago, but what happened has had..lifelong scars. I first met Aya when she posted looking to do an adopt/design collab on insta. I sent a DM asking to do one, and she agreed, and we did the collab. We kept talking after the collab, becoming friends and then eventually confessing a mutual crush.

We started dating, and things were..incredibly iffy. Iffy as in she would sometimes disappear for hours at a time, come back with barely comprehensible texts, and when she finally sobered up, she would admit she'd taken some edibles. We were both around 14-15 years old (again, its been so long exacts are hard to pinpoint), so this drug usage was incredibly distressing to witness and also highly illegal.

But the things that messed me up the most were a few months after we started dating, I ended up finding out from a friend she'd been cheating on me. Cue confrontation, she confessed to it, but wouldn't tell me why she did it when I asked. It was my first real betrayal, honestly, which is why it hurt so bad. One I still don't know why she did. She blew up in popularity only a month or two after the incident, so every time I opened insta, I would almost always see people sharing her work and talking about her. And every time it would be like reliving the day I found out about everything.

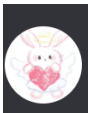
What I decided to do next (a few months-year after the fact), I realize now was also incredibly immature, but felt like the right thing to do back then. I tried to manage my exposure to her/her content by asking people to not talk about her around me. Inevitably, by making such a peculiar request of people, I ended up explaining why, sharing the same story with them. This bit me back when people would tell her I was talking about her, so she posted a public beware on me trying to paint me as a "crazy, lying ex". At this point she had several thousand followers Vs my 250-300 or so followers, a much much smaller user than her.

Due to this I had,, basically no chance to defend myself. I deactivated my account and went into hiding, asking a friend of mine to try and DM her to take it down or message me on an alt account. She did, I apologized for talking about what happened, she removed the false callout, and we were "friends" for a while. I say that because I still felt deeply uncomfortable being around her, so I ended up slowly disappearing and blocking her again after a few days.

It made me terrified to ever share my story again, and I'm still petrified and worried she'll track me down again for talking about what happened (which is why I want to remain anonymous. I never want her to contact me again.). I felt silenced, like I was being punished for talking out. The only reason I'm sharing it now is knowing that I'm not alone, after having read the stories of encounters other people had.

I unfortunately no longer have the phone I did back then so I can't provide screenshots or anything. The only proof I can provide this ever happened is a character she made for me and accompanying ship art of her sona at the time, which I can link if requested. Thank you for letting me share my experience too, I appreciate your time.

STATEMENT FROM PREVIOUS ART MANAGER:



vallen!! 06/10/2023 7:35 PM

me n her were also v close, basically same thing as other friendships. she was always so nice and would always shit talk people to me and vice versa and support me a lot of times. i didnt think much of it anyways. when things got a bit rough for her, i think during 2021? or earlier 2022 im nto sure rn, i offered to be her manager, as she was going inactive a lot and i saw she had tons of ppl waiting on stuff. she let me manage her email, toyhouse and i made her a trello. needless to say how bad it went. aya was very hard to reach, she would disappear for 2-3 days and barely reply. i had tons of people asking for refunds on her email and i could only tell them to wait. same thing for trades and anything else, aya couldnt even send me the files for adopts/trades/anything. it was a pain seeing how bad everything was. i wanted to try and help her so thats why i offered. after a bit she told me it was "better if i didnt manage it for her anymore as she was gonna delete her socials" which clearly never happened. we had agreed on $150 (or $200, not sure) per month for managing her stuff and it took her so much to actually pay me for that month. after that i just left her alone. i found out she shit talkked me many times, as i didn't know ayas true persona, at first i was hurt. all the things she would validate me about, she would shit talk me about later. i kept being chill w her in the end dspite everything bc of our friend group. she also resold a ghoshunsts design she got in a trade (broke ghostshunts tos), which im pretty sure i had asked for priority ping.

she also scammed a mutual back in 2020, where my mutual had traded aya a screen tablet for an oc. a month later aya decided she didnt want the screen tablet anymore and began saying it wasnt working. my mutual offered to go to ayas house and help her out and she refused. she sent the tablet bcak n my mutual was forced to send the oc back. the tablet was working in perfect conditions

i can try and go thru my chat w her later, just need to find, n see if i can find anything worthy again not extremely relevant but wanted to let it out regardless, i always tried to believe she could be a better person overall but seems like that never happened

The section below is regarding scamming / bad business - which is not as important as the parts listed above; but will still be included for clarity regarding killu as a whole.

BAD BUSINESS PRACTICES

(if you have any proof of being scammed by killu you can add your experience to the forum post comments.)
Killu has a history of bad business practices, she makes (as far as i am aware) most of her income directly from her artwork and designs. She does not have a public to-do list (that we know of) even though she stated multiple times she would make one. She often forgets what she owes (having to be reminded multiple times, and personally I have had to beg for WIPS + then beg for a refund because she kept ‘forgetting’.. She also has been deleting comments on her toyhouse profile regarding the ongoing situation (edit: now ALL comments are turned off, and no public post to address refunds/comms/situation). She hasmade no announcements regarding refunds / owed.

She has an insanely long list of refunds. We do not have any direct proof of scamming as it stands , as she has promised to refund everyone as far as we know, but what we do not know is if she will actually refund those who have commissioned as she seems to be actively ghosting a few people she owes and have had no public announcement regarding owed/refunds.

Blocking people she owes-hi, i know a lot is going down and i don't mean to contribute to all the stress and craziness, but professionally speaking, would you feel better not doing my custom for me whatsoever and just refunding me entirely? i'm willing to receive one last design from you before no longer wanting to work with you entirely. just lmk mo 06/05/2023 6:44 PM

i havr absolutely no money snd it would be easier to finish the custom if thats onay
6/05/2023 6:48 PM
fine, but please send me the trello link and frequent wips asap for me to know that you're telling the truth

we're making a doc on her
5:30 PM
FINALLY
you can include my screenshot if you'd like for proof that she made a promise and didn't keep it lmao send it to me when it's gone *done do y'all have a server talking about the doc process or?
no server but we can send the doc so far

(toyhouse comments posted below ONLY incase she deletes these, they are not proof of anything right now + the constant theme of ghosting refunds.)
Edit: all these comments are now gone with the removal of her profile comments, so im glad i screenshotted these beforehand.

DTIYS

(this is a supposed scam, we do not have proof she did not end up paying , but she did not announce winners and deleted her instagram by the time the end date rolled around, and then came back around a month later with the DTIYS deleted)

Killu hosted a DTIYS (draw this in your style) contest (back when she went by napsinu) in which she hosted a 30k contest, offering $ for the winners.

But she used to have an IG by the name napsinu, and she had posted this one Dtyis with the deadly of her reaching to 30k

While promising for 3 winners and the first winner will be rewarded $50 ad the second winner $20 and the last winner an art of their choosen character (i could be slightly wrong for the 2nd and 3rd winners but I'm very sure the firat winners will get $50)

Here's the dtyis, with the tags #napsdtyis1

I remember i was rushing to get my art piece done, since it's close to 30k and by the time i upload my final piece on IG

Her Ig is nowhere to be found, i believe she deleted it? Like i can't

Her Ig is nowhere to be found, i believe she deleted it? Like i can't search her username or click her @ at all

And then by the time it was a month or so, her account are back just fine, but her dtyis post has been deleted. Then she start posting pike normal her design and adopt and ig story

She went to TH and barely seen active on IG anymore

WTF😭😭

Sorry for the rambling, i don't meant to disturb you. I just wanna let this one out since nobody is talking about it 😭

she just seems to he a bad person all around, he havior remains unchange really sorry you had to fall victim to her bs again
